The Clipper welcomes to its exchange table The Baldwin Times, published at Bay Minette, and which is now edited and owned by Mr. R. B. Vail, formerly of the Western Newspaper Union at Birmingham. Mr. Vail has been manager of the W. N. U., at Birmingham for the past several years, and although he has been engaged in newspaper work this is his first venture as editor of a country weekly. He is one of the best known newspaper men in the state, a splendid fellow and The Clipper trusts that success may crown his efforts in the Baldwin county city.

FLIMSY WAISTS, ROLLED HOSE AND PAINT TO BE BANNED.

Birmingham, Ala., July 12.—There will be no more flimsy waists, rolled hose and paint in the schools of Birmingham, according to Mrs. J. P. Levy, president of the Woodlawn Mothers' Club, which is fostering a "same dress week" to be held in August and which will be participated in by mothers clubs throughout the city. Mrs. Levy believes that the elimination of extreme styles formerly adopted by school girls. Leading merchants of the city have been visited and have promised to put on window displays especially appropriate for girls of school age.

Bobbled hair has been given the O. K. of the Woodlawn club, but rolled stockings won't be tolerated. If the girls just must keep their knees cool, let them wear socks, which are much more modest, especially if the girl is small, says Mrs. Levy. The definition of correct dress as given by the club women is: "Neatness, beauty of outline and color, modesty, inconspicuousness and lastly, but perhaps most important, suitability to the occasion."

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY TAKES OWN LIFE.

Huntsville, Ala., July 12.—Clayton Tippett, 17, an employee of the Dallas cotton mills, blew out his heart with a shotgun today at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ella Tippett. He was worried over money, it is believed. He left a note to his mother saying he had told her a "store" about her bank account that he had signed her name to a $35 check, but had put $15 back in the bank.

$3,000,000 Loan For Cotton Association

Montgomery, Ala., July 17.—Announcement has been received by the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association from the War Finance Corporation that its loan for $3,000,000 to provide credit for the members of the Association has been approved. Application for this loan was made in person by John S. Korman, president, and Allen Northington, secretary-manager, of the Cotton Association, who recently made a special trip to Washington for this purpose.

Approval of this loan is only part of the credit which the Cotton Association expects to provide. The general policy at all times will be to secure its loans from Alabama banks. In order that the loans may be protected in the handling of loans in the marketing of cotton, all the officials of the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association who will in any way handle funds, have been bonded to the extent of one quarter of a million dollars.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE WINNIE WEE BLOCKER.

On last Wednesday morning, July 6th, at 8 o'clock, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blocker and claimed for its own their little infant babe, Little Winnie Wee. She was born December 15, 1921 and died July 6th, 1922, just lived 6 months and twenty days. She was taken sick Saturday, July 1, and suffered where the term of office of the incumbent expires, members of Board of Education, of County Commissioners and Boards of Revenue, and other County bodies, and all other officers to be elected in the General Election to be held in November, 1922.

NEGRO KILLS ANOTHER. CLAIMS ACCIDENT.

Troy Messenger says:

Josephus Fuller, negro, shot and killed Jim Jenkins Thursday about seven o'clock, the bullet striking the negro about an inch above his ear, causing instant death. Jim Jenkins worked on the place of Mr. Frank Revel, located on the Fish Trap bridge road, about ten miles from Troy. It is stated that Mr. Revel had told the negro to do some work off in a field and is not known why he was in the barn.

Fuller, who works on the Walter Folmar place, stated that he came along the road and was called into the barn by Jenkins. He went into the barn, and states that Jenkins was shelling corn. He said that Jenkins reached into his pocket and pulled out a 32 calibre pistol and handed it to him, and that as he took it, the gun went off accidentally. Fuller was arrested by Deputies Nichols and Burr Reeves and lodged in the Pike jail.

TO THE PEOPLE OF COFFEE COUNTY

I want to announce to the voters of Coffee County that I am a candidate for member of County School Board of Coffee County, selected by the friends of Brockton. At first I declined to offer my services but owing to the fact that my own neighbors and citizens of the county pressed upon me the necessity of my joining the people's funds, a most judicious system of school management, I therefore responded to the call of my conscience and my friends and if elected to the office will serve all alike to the best of my ability.

Artesian Gusher Struck at Geneva.

Geneva, Ala., July 12.—A gusher struck at Kelly-Martin oil well number one, at Geneva. However, it is not oil, but artesian water, at 819 feet a splendid flow was found, delivering some 600 gallons per minute.

This was quite a curiosity, and attracted large crowds. However at 926 feet the gusher was struck, following an almost incredible amount of water. A rough thirty feet long was built, and the water turned through it and by ascending the width and depth, and the velocity it was calculated that the well was flowing fifty-five gallons a second, 3,300 gallons per minute, 198,000 gallons per hour, 4,662,000 gallons per day.

The coal fields of the United States are 20 times richer than those of all Europe combined.

S. P. Gaillard Appeals to the People

TO THE PEOPLE OF ALABAMA:

I am a candidate for re-election to the Alabama Public Service Commission.

For over seven years I have served you at that Commission, with the one thought to protect the interests of the people to the limit of the law controlling my official acts, and beyond that I know you would not have me go.

From the day I qualified to the taking over of railroads by the United States Government, not a rate was raised in Alabama (except one little rate at the request of the people patronizing it), although thirty times rates petitioned for increased rates, while sixteen times on their own initiative or on petition I reduced rates.

Federal Control originated and closed with rate increases made by it that became burdensome to business, and as soon as possible after the roads were turned back to the companies, I joined in making reduction after reduction, keeping in mind the protection of the basic principles of the Commerce clause. These reductions, including those going into effect July 1st, aggregate many millions of dollars annually saved to the people of Alabama.

So well have I sought to protect the interests of the people that I was openly charged with being an enemy of railroads, but such was not the case my desire being merely to do my duty as I saw it.

OTHER PUBLIC UTILITIES

When jurisdiction over other utilities was thrust upon the Alabama Public Service Commission, the Act of October 1, 1920, imperatively provided that such public utility "shall be entitled to such just and reasonable rates as will enable it at all times to fully perform its duties to the public and to earn a fair return on the reasonable value of the property devoted to public use."

Under stress of war conditions, some rates have been raised under conditions leaving the Commission no escape under the law and without which these utilities could not have continued to serve the public; and no one under these circumstances would ask me to forget my oath of office or to depart from public use.

However, every such raise was met with the requirement that quarterly reports should be made so that the Commission could as rapidly as possible reduce the rates so raised. Some have already been reduced and no one will rejoice more than I at further reductions are made. The Commission's honest accountants are now analyzing these financial reports with view of our reducing such rates as rapidly as the law will permit.

I have sought to so live among you these many years as to merit your good will and your support, and I treasure your good opinion more than anything on earth, save the approval of my own conscience.

I ask you to judge my official record in the light of the law controlling my actions, the facts and conditions in each case and your knowledge of me personally. I have no interest in any public utility, but am deeply interested in the welfare of the people who placed me in office.

AN APPEAL

For the sake of a few coveted dollars attached to the office and for personal political capital, my record has been made the object of grossly untrue assaults by certain persons known to you. That record is one of faithful and honorable service and I appeal to the people who have twice honored me with office (which I have held as a sacred trust), as a jury of my peers, to rebuke these unworthy attacks at the approaching Democratic Primaries.

Gen. George P. Harrison Dies In Opelika Monday

Opelika, Ala., July 17.—General George Paul Harrison, former commander of the Alabama Division, United Confederate Veterans, died at his home here at 11:20 o'clock Monday morning after an illness which had lingered for a long time. He was eighty-one years of age.

General Harrison had been in poor health for the past three years. He was a former member of the National House of Representatives, was the youngest brigadier general in the Confederate army and a widely known lawyer.

Deceased is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Marie Harrison, and one son, George P. Harrison, Jr. He entered the confederate forces at eighteen years of age as a second lieutenant and was rapidly promoted until he was made a brigadier general which commission he held as the early age of twenty-two.

Valuable Suggestions For Care of Swine

Farmers who expect their brood sows to be in good condition at farrowing time next fall should give them proper attention during the summer.

1. Pastures. Plenty of good pastures during the summer months will solve the problem of supplying exercise, and at the same time reduce expenses.

2. Shade. Shade is an essential for hogs during the summer months.

3. Mineral mixture. A mineral mixture composed of equal parts, by weight, of slaked lime, salt, and charcoal, should be kept before the hogs all the time.

4. Water. Fresh water should be kept before the hogs at all times. The old-fashioned idea that hogs like to drink muddy water is a very great error. They should never be allowed to drink muddy or stagnant water.

5. Lice. Hog lice are very common, and are active summer and winter. For the best results hogs must be kept free of comparatively free from lice. This can be done by applying crude oil every ten days, at the same time cleaning up hog beds and sleeping quarters.

MURDEROUS WEAPON IS FOUND IN RIVER.

Samson, Ala., July 11.—The pistol supposed to have been used to kill Ben Chambers, a farmer of the Pera community, three miles from here, has been found. It was discovered in about two inches of water under the trestle over Pea river where Chambers was slain three weeks ago. The gun was a .32 calibre Colt's automatic, and is said to have been claimed by William Weeks.

Weeks was recently discharged on a charge of murder following the finding of Chambers' body in Pea river. The trial was held under Judge H. L. Faulk, of Geneva.

POOR ORIGINAL

HAS IT SOAKED IN? THE CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN.

Despite the heavy publicity that has already been given the subject of Grade Crossing Accidents since June 1st, the date on which this campaign was inaugurated, quite a number of fatalities have occurred. In one case alone six human lives were snuffed out, simply because the driver failed to Stop, Look and Listen before attempting to cross the tracks. A motor vehicle in the hands of a careful driver is an agency for safety. It can be driven up close to the railway track and stopped in perfect safety, differing from horse-drawn vehicles in this respect. But if an improper person is at the wheel, driving a car is more dangerous than making dynamite.

Recently an automobile driver tried to beat a railroad train to a crossing. The result was a wrecked train, a smashed up automobile and a number of people killed. And until safety becomes the uppermost thought in the minds of persons driving cars, no improvement in the situation can be expected.

Nobody can read the daily accounts of fatal accidents at

DEWEY BUTTS DIES After Short Illness
The people of Elba were deeply grieved on Sunday morning when they learned of the death of Dewey Butts, who had been ill for a few days. It was discovered that he had appendicitis in a very bad stage. He was carried to the Troy hospital Saturday morning and an operation performed, when it was discovered that his condition was hopeless. He lingered until late that night when death came. He was conscious before his death and recognized his relatives and friends who were at his bedside.

Dewey was one of the best boys of the town and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. For the past several months he had been employed by the Elba Clipper and was one of the most faithful employees we ever had. For the past months he was the editor's only help in running the shop and we shall miss him very much.

The body was prepared for burial and brought to his home here early Sunday morning and thence to the funeral home of Rev. C. H. Gorman, pastor of the Baptist Church, conducted a short service. The body was then taken to the funeral home of Rev. C. H. Gorman, pastor of the Baptist Church, conducted a short service. The body was then taken to the funeral home of Rev. C. H. Gorman, pastor of the Baptist Church, conducted a short service.

Our heart has been made sad on account of the death of this splendid boy, and we join the many friends in extending to the mother and sisters our sincerest sympathy.

KILLS LARGE RATTLER.
Jack Mathis, well known farmer living above town, told the editor Saturday about killing a large rattlesnake while on his way to town. The snake was killed near the home of Mr. Bonnie Brown. He measured about four feet and had 10 rattles. Mr. Mathis was on a car with some other parties when the snake was seen crossing the road. The car ran over the snake, but this did not kill him.

Hon. S. H. Blain, of Troy, candidate for Secretary of State, was a visitor at Elba Monday morning and made the trip a pleasant call. Mr. Blain is receiving very encouraging reports from all sections in his race. He is a gentleman, a Christian gentleman, and his many friends throughout this section trust that he will be elected as Secretary of State.

FOR THE LADY VOTERS OF COFFEE COUNTY.
As you have seen from the papers, I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor of the Twelfth Judicial Circuit (Coffee, Covington and Pike Counties). It is frequently inconvenient for ladies to see candidates, so I take this means of asking you for your influence and active support in the coming Primary.

If elected, I assure you and the other voters of the County that I will perform the duties of the office faithfully. Trusting that I may have your vote and influence, and assuring you of my appreciation, I am, Sincerely yours, C. W. SIMMONS. (Paid political ad by C. W. Simmons, Enterprise, Ala.)

DEMURRERS OF APPOINTING BOARD ARE OVERRULED BY PEARCE; APPEAL TAKEN

CASE OF CARNLEY AGAINST APPOINTING BOARD IS HEARD HERE TUESDAY BY JUDGE PEARCE; DEMURRERS OVERRULED; BOARD MEMBERS APPEAL; CASE STANDS SAME AS BEFORE HEARING.

Judge H. A. Pearce, of Dothan, tried the case of J. A. Canney against the Appointing Board of Coffee County at Elba on last Tuesday, July 25. This suit was for the purpose of compelling the Appointing Board to appoint the list of managers and election officers selected by the Democratic Executive Committee at its meeting on July 16th, which was called with less than a day's notice. M. A. Owen, chairman presided at the meeting, and Bill Baker acted as secretary.

At this meeting a committee of five was selected to name the election officers with Bally as secretary of this committee. They repaired to a room and in a very few moments returned with a list of managers and clerks and returning officers, already prepared. This list was certified to the appointing board, which doubted the authority of the committee and appointed officers, many of whom were not on the list returned by the committee.

It was ruled by Judge Pearce that the appointing board should appoint the election officers selected by the committee. There was a long drawn out argument by the attorneys. The legal questions involved many of them, are new questions not yet decided by the supreme court.

An appeal to the Supreme Court was immediately taken by the Appointing Board. A supersedeas bond was filed, and approved by Judge Pearce, and the effect of this appeal is to leave the appointment of election officers made by the Appointing Board just as they stood prior to the ruling of Judge Pearce. In other words the managers, clerks and returning officers appointed by the Appointing Board on July 19th, will hold the primary in this county on August 8th.

By reason of the fact that Judge Foster was a candidate in this primary he was disqualified to try the case, and Judge Pearce was appointed in his place. Judge Pearce will be remembered as former Judge of the circuit court of this county, before the Legislature created the 20th Judicial Circuit. Judge Pearce has many warm friends in the county.

W. M. S. HAS ALL DAY MEETING AT DAMASCUS.
The Coffee County W. M. S. held an all day meeting at Damascus Church Friday. This being the young people's council, the greater part of the day was given to the young people's program. Very interesting features of the program were talks by Misses Louise Owen and Rebecca Byrd, of Enterprise, who have offered themselves for missionary service in China. Miss Wooly, of Auburn, who has been a student at Louisville, Ky., gave a very interesting description of The House Beautiful and of the activities of the students there.

At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner was served by the Damascus ladies.

After the afternoon short time was given to the W. M. S. ladies at which time the County President, Mrs. J. A. Canley, took charge. The attendance was awarded to the Kinston ladies. The meeting was closed by a consecration service.
